

Edward Foley, Capuchin

Short Bio

Edward Foley, Capuchin is the Duns Scotus Professor Emeritus of Spirituality, retired Professor of Liturgy and Music and founding director of the Ecumenical Doctor of Ministry Program at Catholic Theological Union. He holds graduate degrees in ministry, music and theology including the Ph.D. from Notre Dame.

He has released collections of CDs and DVDs, authored or edited 32 books, produced 58 book chapters, 51 peer review articles, and over 325 encyclopedia, dictionary and pastoral articles translated into 9 languages. He has lectured around the world from the catechetical institute in Mumbai to the Mayo Clinic, for 6000 teens in the Houston Astrodome to graduate students in Brisbane, from The Ateneo in Manila and Methodist Theological University in Seoul to Wescott College in Cambridge.

Fr. Foley is a Lilly sabbatical Fellow, the Berakah laureate with a lifetime achievement award from the North American Academy of Liturgy, a recipient of a major grant ($231,000) from the John Temple Foundation on preaching and the sciences, and recently a $1.25 million grant from the Lilly Endowment for preaching and neuroscience.

He has been honored with the 2021 Frederick McManus award from the Federation of Diocesan Liturgical Commissions, the 2022 Marten Fellowship in Preaching at the University of Notre Dame, the Great Preacher Award from Aquinas Institute (2022), the Yves Congar Award from Barry University (2023), and a Distinguished Professorship from De La Salle University, Manila. He presides and preaches at Old St. Patrick's Church in Chicago.